

Thursday think...

Our Value for July is Aspiration. This means to have a hope or a dream of something you want to achieve.

This has been a strange year but take some time to think about what has gone well and what you have needed support with.

This is a link to a song that Mrs. Jones has taught the children in school. Please watch and sing along at home.

Thursday think: What do you want to achieve next year?

You don't need to write anything down, just have a chat with the rest of your family.
